Your letter reached early this morning baby
And I read every word you had to say
Your letter reached early this morning baby
And I read every word you had to say
But if you love me like you say you do baby
I wanna know what in the world did you go away?

Your letter said that you're doing okay baby
But then I read, "Please, let me come back home"
Your letter read that you're doing okay now baby
And then it said, "Please, let me come back home"
You said you were so tired, so tired baby
And you would have someone you could call your own

Yes, my memory don't me fail on me baby
You know I'll remember the day you left
Yeah, my memory don't fail on me baby
You know I'll remember the day you left
You know you said baby, I believe you now baby
That you were grown and you've been taking care yourself

Oh, and here is my answer to your letter baby
And the words come straight from my heart
Oh, here is the answer to your letter baby
And the words come straight from my heart
Yes, I loved you then, I can still love you now baby
But I'm afraid to play the bar
