Nothing seems to lead me to these words I need to tell you tell you more Everything's been tainted that I told you that I told you once before Something hides the meaning there's no meaning in the words I said before There's no meaning in the things I've told you long before
I've been waiting here to see what
I've been here waiting here to see what (x3)
I've been waiting here Something leaves me in these words I tell you in these words I tell you more Everything I've said is true I've told to you the truth as told before These are all I've meant to say they're all I've meant to tell you long before There's no meaning to the things I've told you long
I've been here waiting here to see what
I've been here waiting here to see what (x3)
I've been waiting here
There's no meaning to the things I've told you long
I've been waiting here to see what
I've been here waiting here to see what (x3)
I've been waiting here
