"Essential Things"

Visit "Essential Things" on MotoLyrics.com take away the essential things and leave what's left behind listen to all the stories listen to what they've said over and over again they tell you how it used to be but it hasn't been that way since like a note left on the table like an image in your head always think about something else but its something else instead teachers preaching what they never understand its all the same

its all the way
we're different then
some things never did you wrong never satisfy unless you're burning up

some days are not like the rest of them these are days we can not explain why we believe in such incriminating mud to cover up our mistakes we will never be alone in your defense we will never live and die at your expense we will always leave the door open for anyone

never satisfy unless
