As I see the day I look in a different way
Eyes as black as night never see the light
You can't see my mind not like humankind
And my viciousness is unequaled
And so now you know

Never will I look back
Some things now will never change
Nothing good ever lasts
Mankind has now gone insane

Doctors theorize that I am mad inside
But what do they know what is real
Feed me all the lies everyday they try
To erase my world
But they will not succeed

Walk the streets at night and I have to fight
Demons deep inside I can never hide
All my darkest fears haunting me for years
Schizophrenia always holds
All of my sanity
