His love reached from the heavens to the far ends of the earth, to give you life forever, He left no stone unturned. And before the birth of time, Jesus had you on His mind, so you never need to question His concern.

Chorus:

So what can separate you from the precious love of God? And who could ever come against His strong and perfect love? So when you're in the valley, and your nights are cold and lonely, the darkest hour is just before the dawn. Remember nothing can separate you from God's love.

He numbered each and every star and calls them all by name. He counts them one by one and sees that they are still in place. If He cares for every star, then He sees right where you are. You can trust you'll never fall from His embrace.

Chorus

Bridge:

Neither pain nor sorrow, not today and not tomorrow, nothing past or nothing present, nothing future, nothing ever.
