If we were not loved, to love
If we were not touched, to touch
If we were not led, to lead
If we were not fed, to feed

If you did not sacrifice
So we could have new life
Fuller and deeper than before
Then Lord, what in the world did you save me for?

If we were not taught, to teach
If we were not sought, to seek
If we were not helped, to help
If we were not told, to tell

If you'd not forgiven us
To let mercy live in us
So you could love through us once more
Then Lord, what in the world have you saved us for?

Lord, you made us for this place and time
And you showed the way for us to find

Our sacred purpose, our place in your design.

We have been loved, to love (there is a reason)
And we have been touched, to touch (there is a reason)
We have been led, to lead
And we have been fed, to feed

If you did not set us free
So that our souls might lead
Prisoners towards the open door
Than Lord, what in the world did you save us for?
Lord, why in the world did you save us?
Than Lord, what in the world have you saved us for?

We have been loved, to love (there is a reason, a reason to love)
And we have been touched, to touch (there is a reason, a reason to love)
Thank you Lord
