God must love you
I said to myself
Cause you are more beautiful than anybody else
God must adore you
It's easy to tell
Must be wonderful to wake up to yourself

From the moment I first saw you
Had a vibe that's fit to kill
It was then you knew that I knew love was real
On the day I met you
You were so so chill
On the day I fell in love with you
My heart stood still
And I never thought this happening to me
It's like something coming over me
I never thought that I could be

God must love you
He's proud of himself
When he made you girl
He broke the mold for real
There's just something about you that you can even tell
It's the way you flow, you don't even know
That you got that wip appeal

From the moment I first saw you
Had your vibe all set to kill
It was then you knew that I knew love was real
On the day I met you
You were so so true
On the day I fell in love with you
My heart stood still
And I never thought this happening to me
It's like something coming over me, yeah
On the day I met you
You were so so true
On the day I fell in love with you
My heart stood still
And I never thought this happening to me
It's like something just came over me

I never thought that I could feel, baby, yeah

Never thought love at first sight could be real
Suddenly I see your face and I get chills, baby
And everything I never thought that I could feel is for real
Love is real
On the day

Oh, baby
On the day I met you
You were so so true
On the day I fell in love with you
My heart stood still
And I never thought this happening to me
It's like something just came over me, yeah
On the day I met you
You were so so true
On the day I fell in love with you
My heart stood still
And I never thought this happening to me
It's like something just came over me
I never thought that I could feel
No, no, I never thought that I could feel
