What good is a kiss
Especially if it's not
With the one you truly love
Baby, don't kiss your life away

What good is a house if it's not a home
We don't wanna spend our lives alone
Baby, there's nothing that will stay
Don't leave me now

Some people search but they search too far
When love is so close to their hearts
I won't be searching 'cause love was right here
And it's clear it's right in your arms, baby

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't run away from these arms
There's something I need you to know
Love will be waiting at home

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't be afraid of these arms
There's something I need you to know
That love will be waiting at home

What good is a heart
If it's heart alone without
Someone special there to hold
The heart was not meant to waste away

What good is a love if it's not sincere
You need someone special who's always there
Not someone who'll just drift away

Some people search through their whole life long
Trying to find someone true
Well don't you go searching cause love is right here
Don't you fear it's waiting for you

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't run away from these arms
There's something I need you to know

Love will be waiting at home

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't be afraid of these arms
There's something I need you to know
That love will be waiting at home

I will be there waiting for you
You need only call I'm there for you
I'll give you my heart and I'll be true
I'll be there for you and only for you

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't run away from these arms
There's something I need you to know
Love will be waiting at home

Don't you go breaking my heart
Don't be afraid of these arms
There's something I need you to know
That love will be waiting at home

I will be there be waiting for you
You need only call I'm there for you
I'll give you my heart and I'll be true
Love will be waiting for you
