I see your shadow even when you're not standing there
I feel you when I close my eyes
I've been through it all and made it out alive
It's only just a matter of time
I won't be (hopeless), I was so (devoted)
Pieces would come together
I was so (blinded), my heart is (flatlined)
And I promise you baby

That I've tried but I can't try no more
And I've cried but I can't cry no more
And I've tried but I can't try no more
And I've cried but I can't cry no more
It's just so impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't

I hear you walking through the halls
And I know you're not home
The thought of you is all that remains
I wonder if I call would you pick up the phone

And tell me that you're feeling the same
There's nothing left (in me), my (?) (empty)
The pieces will come together
I tell myself (why me) and if I'm wrong (why me)
I'm not giving up baby

But I've tried but I can't try no more (no more baby)
And I've cried but I can't cry no more
And I've tried but I can't try no more
And I've cried but I can't cry no more
It's just so impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's just so impossible

I got an empty bed on my right side
I'm missing you now for a life time
I tell myself I'm fine but I'm lying, I'm lying
And I promise you baby

That I've tried but I can't try no more
And I've cried but I can't cry no more (tried It baby)
And I've tried but I can't try no more
And I've cried but I can't cry no more
It's just so impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's just so impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's just so impossible going..
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's just so impossible going
On without you, on without you
No I can't
It's just so impossible going..
