Yeah, yeah

It seems like yesterday when I said, "I do"
And after all this time my heart still burns for you
If you don't know by now that you're my only one
Then take a look inside me and watch my heart strings come undone

I know I promised you forever
Is there no stronger word I can use?
To reassure you when the storm is ragin' outside
You're my safest place to hide

Can you see me? Here I am
(Here I am)
I need you like I needed you then
When I feel like givin' up
I climb inside your heart and still find
(You're my)
You're my safest place to hide

You see colors no one else can see
In every breath you hear a symphony
You understand me like nobody can
I feel my soul unfoldin', like a flower bloomin'

When this whole world gets too crazy, yeah
And there's nowhere left to run
(Nowhere left to run)
I know you give me sanctuary
You're the only truth I know, you're the road back home

Can you see me? Here I am
(Here I am)
Standin' here where I've always been (I've always been)
And when words are not enough
I climb inside your heart and still find
(You're my)
You're my safest place to hide, my safest place to hide
(Hide)

I know I promised you forever
There's no stronger word, I can use
To reassure you when the storm is ragin' outside
You're my safest place to hide

Oh, can you see me? Here I am
(See me, here I am)
Standin' here where I've always been
(I've always been)
When I feel like givin' up
(Up)
I climb inside your heart and still find
Yeah, yeah, you're my safest place to hide
Oh, yeah, you're my safest place to hide
