I tried to pick the pieces up
And I can't think of starting over
We used to share the stars above
I don't wanna think it changed
And now I gotta move on
I've gotta catch up to the world
Even though I gave you my life
As wrong as it seems I know it's right
But is there a trace that I can go away
To escape the love that I will forever know

Where can we go from here
All I know is that I love you still
Sometimes we do things against our will

I know I cry lonely tears
Where can we go from here

Why, why do I cry inside
When love is gone away
And how, How can I carry on
When I know all the love is gone
Where can I go to get away
From the pain of loving you
Tell me where

Where can we go from here
All I know is that I love you still
Sometimes we do things against our will
I know I cry lonely tears
Where can we go from here
Ooh
