Check out the government inject
The innocent with subliminal criminal vibes
With the message attainable station to station
Tellin' lies to a nation addressed by the President, yo

You should all be aware that leader who fooled you
And told you lies to get elected
Rejected a civil rights bill with skill
What is he saying? Subliminal vibes again

You're known as Miss Freedom
You're known as the land of opportunity
Yeah, but what do they know? They know nothing
Tell-lies-vision it's got a nation trapped
Keepin' you flip back and forth and back

A remote in your brain, you remain the same intellectual genocide
It's suicide, because you play the game and turn it on
So now you're caught like a base head visual fiending
For the things you see on your television, subliminal vibes again

Subliminal nation, governmental constitution
Emancipated, Miss Freedom was their mendacious solution
To keep us really where we are mentally Physically and foolishly abiding by the rules they set

What do they know? They don't live like we do
They'll never understand the middle or lower class
So you better believe we go to over stand ourselves From the White House in D.C., they'll never see you and me

Believe that brother, so whether you're white our whether you're black
Take your brothers hand and sure enough understand
That this world is in need of a new plan
Stop suffering and bring love across the land, Miss
Freedom
