You can't disappear anymore,
I see your face lurking outside the window,
You say you're a trife, I'm a bore,
You touch yourself put your face in the pillow,
But the funny thing about you is,
You remembered to leave it behind,
And the funny thing about me is,
I'm a member of the Right Brigade,
Makes no difference to me what side you choose,
What side will lose,
All there is to perceive is what I want,
And I know how to get it,
But the funny thing about you is,
You remembered to leave it behind,
And the funny thing about me is,
I'm a member of the Right Brigade.
