I have grown old into something new
Another clone with a common view
I've lost my sight of what life really means
Having fun and pursuing my dreams

I look at life with a different eye
What I'm living is a fucking lie
I look in the mirror and all that I see
Is another clone instead of me!

I'm looking down at the kids today
Shaking my head at what they say
Wishing my life wasn't one big blur
Wasting my youth, being immature

I look at life with a different eye
What I'm living is a fucking lie
I look in the mirror and all that I see
Is another clone instead of me!
