Quietly I watch you sleep hopefully you wont hear what I say, Wondering if I turn the clouds happy the moment I tasted your rain, Tonight was the night that I saw my first sight, of how pleasure wins over pain Now I know what It was don't wanna ever let you go
And I hope that you feel the same,

You shot your arrow
through my restless shaking (heart)
You came down on me slow, drew back your bow and my lady you shot your arrow straight through my heart

I kiss your mouth and stroke your hair and gently I hang on your every breath I know what I'm feeling right now, it's more than just lust or the sake of your flesh
Girl I need you now
I try my best to learn how to be all that my words might say Carressing your skin, I never imagined that I could ever feel this way

You shot your arrow
through my restless shaking (heart)
you came down on me slow, pulled back your bow
and my lady you shot your arrow straight through my
heart

Girl, I need you now,
I try my best to learn how
to be all that my words might say Carressing your skin I never imagined
I could ever feel this way

Chorus
