

Bad Manners

"Memory Train"

Visit "Memory Train" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I might take the train if I ever see you again
Well I might take the train if I ever see you again
I might live for tomorrow, but my eyes fill with sorry
All I'm asking from you is tell me please what to do
All I'm asking from you is tell me please what to do
I might live for tomorrow will my eyes fill with sorry

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train
And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

Well I might take the train if you say my love is in vain
Well I might take the train if you say my love is in vain

How I've tried to forget you but I don't think I want to

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train
And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train
And I keep getting away from you on that memory train
And I keep getting away from you on that memory train
And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

(Memory Train)
(Memory Train)

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

(Memory Train)
(Memory Train)

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

(Memory Train)

And I keep getting away from you on that memory train

Visit Bad Manners page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

