The fish is on the line
He's wriggled off this time
And now he's free

The fish is doing well
But only time will tell
So he needs to find out why
He shouldn't try
Does she even care
If he's not there?

Oh I don't believe in this at all
There must be so much more
No, I didn't mean what I just said
I meant something else instead

The fish is under the spell
He wonders how he fell

But he never found out why
He didn't try
Does she even care
If he's not there?

Oh I don't believe in this at all
There must be so much more
No, I didn't mean what I just said
I meant something else instead

So, sometimes it's hard to think
It's like your mind is on the blink
You sink deep and time just flew

[Instrumental to fade out]
