

Badi

"Fate Of The World"

Visit "Fate Of The World" on MotoLyrics.com time waits for no man, which only means that I must take what matters into my own hands cause I am not that far from the the day when my generation will be the ones in charge to rewrite the laws, I stand strong on the front lines as a knight for the cause cause there's a revolution in the mist of all people, but it won't be fought with fists too many lives have been lost over nothing living nightmares without a soul to trust in but the final hour is finally upon us the downfall of those scared of losing power it's inevitable that I rise and move to where they told me never to go cause they know they won't last forever and they know what'll happen if you and I mass together so we have to act together gather the indivisible and bring em all back together cause the world is now yours and mine for the taking listen, this is history in the making

CHORUS:

it's time to rise like never before (the fate of the world lies in my hands)
a champion born to weather to storm
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
changing the course of history
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
prepare for ultimate victory
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)

and now I'm pressed for time thank God I'm the one standing next in line cause I want this to stand the test of time and find forever make em all press rewind see I'm the one who needs to take a stand

I can no longer simply take for granted what I've been handed, a skilled mechanic called upon to work and repair the damage I'm a movement

a culture that keeps improving as one people start producing it's a world premier, an exchange of new ideas between peers and that is why I'm here I gotta move with the spirit of the pioneers and I ain't really gotta whole lot of time here before the day my children arrive here so I got no time to just wait no time to simply sit around and debate and let these old timers decide my fate na I will escape, cause I can't afford to make that same mistake

CHORUS:

it's time to rise like never before
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
a champion born to weather to storm
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
changing the course of history
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
prepare for ultimate victory
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)

I know that I've been chosen to set my people free I set the world in motion my fate depends on me

CHORUS:

it's time to rise like never before
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
a champion born to weather to storm
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
changing the course of history
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)
prepare for ultimate victory
(the fate of the world lies in my hands)

Visit Badi page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.