Just a man

Any other day I make another fauxpas when girls cross my way to prove me wrong Then I try to bring out all my best things which I've ever had and again I try to be so smart

I told you things you've never heard before dirty little tales from inside yourself everyday

Any other night I wanna do some games with you when you lie next to me and take my hand

learned and again I try to make things hard

I told you things you've never heard before dirty little tales from inside of yourself everyday

Oh baby can't you see that I'm just a man
I can't control the beast in me
I can't control my hands
