

Balance

"You're Not The Only One"

Visit "You're Not The Only One" on MotoLyrics.com

I was sad and lonely as can be

When an angel appeared in front of me

And she said to me "you're not the only one"

And I said "darlin', darlin' you don't understand

My life ain't turnin' out like I had planned"

And she said to me "you're not the only one"

Well, we spend our lives in speculation, spend our time in thought

Try to estimate the value of every thing we bought

While the days keep gettin' shorter and the nights keep gettin' colder

And we're gettin' older

So let's not spend our time tryin' to make sense

Of all these things that make no, no difference

Or the consequence, " you're not the only one"

So we'll watch this world from a different point of view

With these angels watching over me and you

We keep them amused; we're not the only ones

Visit Balance page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.