Visit "Wake Up" on MotoLyrics.com

So why you keep your head down when you're in front of your mentality?

You'll never be free if you're too shy to keep your own idea

I wanna tell you one thing my friend

I wanna explain you how to lead yourself

Not always count on your friend

Not only count on your fucking friend

Wake up man, leave your old fucking mentality

All things you've learned, forget it

All things you wanted, run and take it

Don't be afraid when you're confronting the authority

Sometimes it's ok, but sometimes it's too much

So, say what you think and you'll be proud

Create your system, believe in yourself, create your life

Believe in your god

Do you understand ? It's not a law, not an obligation, it's just a trick

To built your civilization

Your attitude leaves you to death

It's time to change, not to die

This is the end of your lies

Freedom is yours, be hardcore

Don't be quiet, open your eyes

The first time you live your life
