

Band Marino

"Every Time I Make A Girl Cry I Know I've Done My Job"

Visit "Every Time I Make A Girl Cry I Know I've Done My Job" on MotoLyrics.com

I knew a girl, she said she loved me so.
Said, "I don't care for you at all.
I can do better than you and that's just what I plan to do."

I won't marry you, there's too much to do.

Take my hand and you'll fall.

I know when I've made a girl cry,
I know when I've made a girl cry,
I know when I've made a girl cry,
That I've done my job.

I'm not grateful for anything that I have.
Not the food on my plate, not the clothes on my back.
Not the world laid at my feet,

Not the daily sunshine that I meet.
Not the way my parents loved me so.
Not the upper-middle class life that I know.

I won't marry you, there's too much to do.

Take my hand and you'll fall.

I know when I've made a girl cry,
I know when I've made a girl cry,
I know when I've made a girl cry,
That I've done my job.

Da, da da da da da da

I've done my job.
I've done my job time and time again

Visit Band Marino page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.