By '89 they'd died out one by one
The commies never knew how to have fun
The Wall and the Iron Curtain fell
But I know they are there

Cos we're living in parallel worlds
We're living in parallel worlds
We're living in parallel worlds
And I won't ask you why

In the end, there's only black and white
Welcome to Euro-Apartheid
Victims of a long forgotten age
You've lost two decades

Now we're living in parallel worlds
We're living in parallel worlds
We're living in parallel worlds
And I won't ask you why

They treat you down
No interaction
Eyes on the ground
Make no connection at all

Parallel worlds...
