Blinded by your human ways you've brought about the world's decay peasants now to live in fear the human race shall disappear twisted thoughts to save the day you've bestowed on us the age of plague

Could you conselve all of my mind's pain come with me through my eyes you'll see pain you may never know but in whitch your kids will grow

As they grown in the chess and burning remaine what will you tell them about humanity's defeat
