One hundred of satan's angels, somehow they lost to the heaven
And what a helluva party, they had over there Two hundred skin winged demons, they made an invasion to the gates Gates left golden dust behind them, after they were rumbling down
And sixty devilish creatures, attacked against the walls And those walls of the heaven, were crushed by their force
Fifty dark minded beasts, with their wings of steel They made a raid to the temple, and it's tower of the gold

Another fifty steel winged ones, they landed on the yard
On the yard of that temple, they massacred angels of God
One hundred warriors of Lucifer, they brought the fire with them
And they made storm of fire, that blew over paradise And behold, one hundred and six, monsters from the inferno
They brought the nuclear destruction, that devastated
The Holy Realm
The legions of the hell, attacked to the heaven
There were no survivors, after this invasion from the hell

Dreams turned to nightmares Heaven changed to hell Light turned to dark White changed to black Good turned to evil
Green changed to red Colours of the heaven Changed to negative

Last day in heaven...!
