again and again by Babe
Again and again and again and again
I'm still holding on to the dream
Again and again and again and again
I'm climbing the top of mount keen
I'm kissing the lips of the one I love
He holds me, but when I wake up, then
Again and again and again and again
I cry for the boy in the glenn

Two kids of the highlands
Always together
Born on the banks of loch lee
Yes that was the painting
Of our lives
And we thought, it always would be

But live has it's own rules
And always knows better
The roads that we both have to go
And I have to leave you
Down there at the glenn
But darling, how I miss you so

Again and again and again and again
I'm still holding on to the dream
Again and again and again and again
I'm climbing the top of mount keen
I'm kissing the lips of the one I love
He holds me, but when I wake up, then
Again and again and again and again
I cry for the boy in the glenn

The sounds of the city
Keep me awake
No, I can't stop thinking about you
And tears in the dawn
Would remind you my love
Of the grass in the early morning dew

Again and again and again and again

I'm still holding on to the dream
Again and again and again and again
I'm climbing the top of mount keen
I'm kissing the lips of the one I love
He holds me, but when I wake up, then
Again and again and again and again
I cry for the boy in the glenn

And every day I wanna call you
I wanna scream, I'm so alone
No I don't dare but if you wanna help me
Come and take me home
