Tick A Tumps My Heart by Babe
The sky's so blue, there's no renew
The sun is here to stay
Eight o'clock in the morning
It's gonna be the day

I always will remember
It won't go out of my mind
The sun, the sky, the reason why
I won't tell you the news

A little bit of brandy
It'll help me get the nerve
To tell you that I love you
Is there anyone to serve?

Tick a thumps my heart
Where am I gonna start?
What am I to do?
Given the fact that I'm so blue

I have another brandy
It's gonna help me through

Tick a thumps my heart
Where am I gonna start?
What am I to do?
Given the fact that I'm so blue

It's five o'clock, a heavy rock
It's right behind the fog
Na, nanananana
It's raining cats and dogs

I just can't remember how it all began
The rain, the sky, the reason why
The what, the who I am

The little bit of brandy
Didn't help me get the nerve
To tell you that I love you

Is there anyone to serve?

Tick a thumps my heart
Where am I gonna start?
What am I to do?
Given the fact that I'm so blue

I have another brandy
It's gonna help me through

Tick a thumps my heart
Where am I gonna start?
What am I to do?
Given the fact that I'm so blue
