You say you're happy and it's true
I know you, you're telling lies
You can't hide it in your eyes
I know you, you know me

I used to think you knew your mind
You're that kind, so let it show
Open up and let it flow
I know you, you know me

CHORUS:

What's the use of crying
When there's no denying
Something's changing your life
Something's changing mine

You got something in your heart
Torn apart, you gotta say
Let us see the light today
I know you, you know me
