It takes nothing away from me to give to you

It takes nothing away from you to give to me

You are what you are and I am what I am

And we can both exist without competition

without inhibitions

I can love you even if you don't love me

If you'll let me be, let me breathe, i'll help you to see

And if you truly love me I'll let you be, let you breathe

You've helped me to see

It takes nothing away from me to open my eyes

That's how it should be, if I am free, in touch with me

You'll begin to see, it takes nothing away from you to open your eyes to me.
