There's an eagle in the eastern sky turning in the wind

Out across the evening resting on the wings.

If I had the wings of an eagle there'd be no holding me

I'll be free - sailing free.

One day soon I'm gonna run like the wind

One day soon -

Gonna break away from everything

One day soon.

Nothing in the world's gonna pull me back

And nothing's gonna keep me in - gonna run like the wind

And if you should tell me you want to hold me down

Before the glow of morning I'll be gone without a sound.

The more you try to keep me in the less you will succeed

Sailing free - sailing free.

One day soon I'm gonna run like the wind

One day soon -

One day soon I'm gonna run like the wind

One day soon -

One day soon I'm gonna run like the wind

One day soon
