I don't know why you call me
It makes no sense to call me
'Cos every time you do, I listen to you
And my heart lies
It ain't no use me pretending when I still feel I'm depending
'Cos when I try to avoid that look in your eyes, my heart lies
I still need you
I won't deny, I still need you
But it's just not helping when you call me to ask me what am I gonna do now
As if it mattered, if only you knew how

I don't know why you call me
It makes no sense to go on calling me
'Cos every time you do, I listen to you
And my heart lies
'Cos every time you do, I listen to you
And my heart lies, my heart lies
