Babel Fish - Energize Me

I could have sworn my life was going where I wanted
I could have sworn we were as happy as can be
But I would lie if I insisted there's no problem
Yes, I would lie 'Cause I've used up my battery
Energize me, Energize me
I can't keep up the pace
Vitalize me, vitalize me
I can't get up these days
Synchronize me, normalize me
I need your remedy
Energize me I could have sworn that I would always land on my feet
I could have sworn I wouldn't miss you desperately
But things have changed and lately it has been all downhill
Yes, things have changed'
Cause I'm just sick of being me
Energize me, energize me
I can't keep up the pace
Vitalize me, vitalize me
I can't get up these days
Synchronize me, normalize me
I need your remedy
Energize me It's not a joke, it's an emergency
There are clothes and litter spread
Around the mattress on the floor
There's a pyramid of cigarette butts
Next to the closed door
Right above it, in the mirror,
There's a grey and worn-out-face
And it's watching me, it's watching me,
It's been watching me for days
Energize me, energize me
I can't keep up the pace
Vitalize me, vitalize me
I can't get up these days
Synchronize me, normalize me
I need your remedy
Energize me It's not a joke, it's an emergency
