

Barbra Streisand

"It's a New World"

Visit "It's a New World" on MotoLyrics.com

{Oh! What a beautiful night, isn't it? The smell, crickets, it worries me
That we are tampering with what it took Three hundred eighty million years to create We're being reckless with the whole miraculous balance of nature
But I have great faith in people
I believe that, if they're told, if they understand what's at stake
They will make a change, they always have
And so this is for you
You who have the opportunity to raise your voices and do it again}

It's a new world I see

A new world for me
The tears have rolled off my cheek
And fears fade away everytime you speak
A new world away, we're in a tiny room
What a vision of joy and blossom and bloom
A new found promise one that will last
So I'm holdin' on and I'm holdin' fast You'll bring a new world to me the way the world should be

Visit Barbra Streisand page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.