It's a long way back home
To pack up and leave again
To gather along
Or you without me again
It's a long way back home
And a long way back here again
I should have known
That you would just plead again
For the first time I knew what to do
The first time it's just me and you
Then the worst timing I ever knew
I have to go
I already know
It's a long way back home
To feel like I'm far away
And how should I know
What goes on here anyway?
For the first time I knew what to do
The first time it's just me and you
Then the worst timing I ever knew
I have to go
You already know
Why God spent a week on a star
No time, you can't get there by car
When we get some time on our own
Well plan out our next trip alone
Its a long way back home
From just about anywhere
Cause once through the door
Im not even halfway there
For the first time I knew what to do
The first time it's just me and you
Then the worst timing I ever knew
I have to go
Im already known
Its a long way back home
Its a long way back home
