I'm learning, I'm yearning
I'm burning all your stuff, but that's not enough
I'm thinking that I'm aching
Mistaking lust for love

Thanks that was fun
Don't forget, no regrets
Accept maybe one

Did I scare you when I dared you?
I stared you in the eye and told you good-bye
You mocked me, it shocked me
When you walked me to the bus

Thanks that was fun
Don't forget, no regrets
Accept maybe one
Made a deal, not to feel, God that's dumb

Everybody knows the deal fell through

I was hoping I could just blame you
When was it that I became so soft?

This sentimentality doesn't look good on me
I thought that you would be begging to be with me
But I'm the one on my knees, blubbering
"Please, let me stay"

Deflated and jaded, I hated it when you call
Which isn't at all
I've spoken, though broken
Here's a token of my love

Thanks that was fun
Don't forget, no regrets accept maybe one
Made a deal, not to feel, God, that was dumb

Don't forget, no regrets, accept maybe one
Made a deal, not to feel, thanks that was fun
