I was standing by a piano
When I first caught a glimpse of you
Then I stared out the window
And the world looked all new
You knew you were above me
That I wasn't of your ilk (?)
But the first time you kissed me
Oh your breath smelled like milk, yay
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, ay, do, do, do, do you
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you

We hopped into your car
A little rabbit of wine (?)

I told you your apartment was banging baby
Then you turned down the light
Oh I tried to undress you
But you said patience Josh just chill
You said I don't want to get no confessions or past girlfriends
Or how you wore your hair in the seventh grade
I just want to love you forever
So I said keep it real
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, ay, do, do, do, do you
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you

Though it stayed softcore as I layed on the floor
I had already forgotten what it was you had worn
We played two or three games
Felt a little ashamed
When I realized I had never even gotten your name
Still I was filled up with pride
Pretended you were my bride
As I stared at you wide eyed cause your hands were tied Sudden change in the weather I was tatted and tethered
Can't remember the last time I smelled so much leather
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, ay, do, do, do, do you
Oh, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you
Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you

Do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do, do you
