Blue morning angel bringing in the dawn
Holding sunlight in your palm
You bring the day, your kiss of life

Soft, soft your eyes
Where they turn Jewels grows dewdrops burn
You bring the day, your kiss of life

But as I try to struggle on
Not knowing where I'm coming from
I can't, I can't, I can't see you
And though I know your face is there
I only see a landscape bare
I'm just an ordinary man
Living my life in my own way
But the world is upside down

Blue morning angel guardian light
Share your sunrise open up my sight
You bring the day your kiss of life

But as I try to struggle on
Not knowing where I'm coming from
I can't, I can't, I can't see you
And though I know your face is there
I only see a landscape bare
I'm just an ordinary man
Living my life in my own way
But the world is up side down
The world is up side down
The world is up side down- yes I say
The world is up side down
Ooow...
