We are not blind, we know the truth
Still we don't stand, still we don't choose
We'd rather stay so comfortable
Stuck in our worlds under control
We may not pull the trigger but we Stand by and watch and pretend not to see
Silence is worse, then evil done
What in the world have we become
Can't you see that

This is war so pick your side
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
Cause can't you see we're running out of time

Tomorrow will come, and one day we'll see
The choices we made, made history
Before it's too late find where you stand
Let's use our voice while we still can
Can't you see that

This is war so pick your side
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
Cause can't you see we're running out of time

Running out of time
Running out of time
Can't you see that

This is war so pick your side
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
Cause can't you see we're running out of time

Running out of time
Running out of time
Running out of time
