"Running Town"

I was born on the ol' Crow river
Uncle Sam he's an indian giver
Where the flow never fights it's direction
Where he resold the rights to sheer white perfection...
In a running town...
Down, down, down town in a running town.
Where we go, dancing lightly rock the roll and then
You know baby what you'll find again... and you know for sure.
I can see you in the sun will shine
You know baby the shadows is where to find... and you know for sure... know.

The lack of a entire new dimension
Shared within the designs of convention
The care it took the time where'd it get ya
Lookin right and the left hook will hit ya
In a running town
Down, down, down town in a running town.
Where we go, dancing lightly rock the rolling now
You know baby all the lines so well... and I know for sure.
I can see you sure the sun will shine.
You know baby where your gonna find... and you know for sure... know.
