

Barry J. Gillis

"Road To Sadness"

Visit "Road To Sadness" on MotoLyrics.com

I see distant stars in the sky and I wonder if you see them, too
There, so far away in the sky, just like the story of you and I I hear your voice coming to me, coming to me in the night
And all I do is think about you, I think I'm losing my mind

I'm on the road to sadness
And I need someone to save me from this reckless life
I'm on the road to sadness
Do you think that you could save me from this reckless life

I saw you yesterday, my love, and, oh, you looked so good You're the woman that I need, I just wish you understood

I'm on the road to sadness
And I need someone to save me
I'm on the road to sadness
Do you think that you could save me?

We could have had love, you and me
We could have had love, you and me
Now there's only pain and misery
A building for today, of you and me

I'm on the road to sadness
And I need someone to save me from this reckless life
I'm on the road to sadness
Do you think that you could save me from this reckless
life

Visit Barry J. Gillis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.