Sometimes when friends all seem so far away
All caught up in changing times
I feel a change but can't remember when
I left part of me behind

But I know that I can't go back anymore
I've lost the key and I've closed the door
No more yesterday
And there's no easy way back home

Once I was young enough to know the truth
Now it's an endless maze
And though I've got myself to see me through
I long for the simple days

But I know that I can't go back anymore
I've come too far and I've closed the door
No more yesterday
And there's no easy way back home

Sometimes I wonder if where I am is where I wanna be

But you know that we can't go back anymore
We've come too far and we've closed the door
No more yesterday
And there's no easy way back home
