I saw you at the Beachwood Cafe
You looked at me and then you looked away That was some kind, some kind of friend you turned out to be

You said you had places that you had to be Now who was gonna be there for me
That was some kind, some kind of friend you turned out to be

Lady, that was some kind, some kind of friend you turned out to be Baby, that was some kind, some kind of friend you
turned out to be

They say a woman like you can't get enough That your Mazaradi's built for two
They say that women like you like to play with love
Is that true?

When I ran into you the other day
You smiled at me, but you had nothing to say That was some kind, some kind of friend you turned out to be

Tell me why'd you do what you did to me
You covered up your life so I couldn't see That was some kind, some kind of friend you turned out to be

turned out to be
turned out to be

I never should have let you get to me Never should have let you bring me down Didn't know that I was just some fantasy that you found

Some kind, some kind of friend, some kind [whisper] (Some kind, some kind of friend)

Some kind, some kind of friend, some kind
[whisper] (Some kind, some kind of friend)
Some kind, some kind of friend, some kind
[whisper] (Some kind, some kind of friend)
Some kind, some kind of friend, some kind

turned out to be
turned out to be Some kind of friend
