I feel like I'm just being strung along
Maybe I'm right but you just say I'm wrong
If only I could change my point of view
Can you help me to see?

Brush aside the hours of the day
Only to begin a new one anyway
Are we so blind that we can't read between the lines?
Can you help me to see?

Crazy how the days go by so hard to understand where do they go
If only for a moment
Crazy how we waste away the hours of ours lives and
never know
If only for a moment

It sounded like a good idea at the time
Find something in this world and try to make it mine
Why do we sacrifice for someone's way of life
Can you help me to see?

Crazy how the days go by so hard to understand where
do they go
If only for a moment
Crazy how we waste away the hours of ours lives and
never know
If only for a moment

What ever happen to our sanity?
Lets lose ourselves and take a shot or three
I gotta try to get myself back into that place
In my mind, on a beach, gotta get away
For a moment- I want to feel the sunlight on my face
I want to brush away the sand so I can get a taste
I wanna know how it feels to be new again
Once again, just the innocence
For a moment- I want to feel the sunlight on my face
I want to brush away the sand so I can get a taste
I wanna know how it feels to be new again
Once again, just the innocence!

Crazy how the days go by so hard to understand where
do they go
If only for a moment
Crazy how we waste away the hours of our lives and
never know
If only for a moment I could go
