We never knew what we had, we never thought that it would end.

I want so much to bring it back. I know I will never see those Times again. But I still believe, where does this leave me? I

Have seen them come and go, I have seen my friends changed, so

Why am I cast aside just because I have stayed the same? But I

Still believe, where does this leave me now? You want to forget,

But I will hold on to those days and I don't hate you just

Because we have gone our separate ways. ONLY THE DIEHARD REMAIN
