I know it gets better than this
I've seen them walking hand in hand
I've seen them smile when they are kissed
I've seen them embrace 'till the end
I've heard them listen intently
To what the other has to say
They find the time they need to spend
I think we still have a long way

Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good

Not that I'm miserable or sad
I'm really not one to complain
I dig the memories we've had
But still they seem a touch too late

I think some change is in order
Things just don't feel quite like they should
I never want another girl
But baby please turn up the good

Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good
Baby, turn up the good

It doesn't feel like it should
So baby turn up the good
It doesn't feel like it should
So baby turn up the good
It doesn't feel like it should
So baby turn up the good
It doesn't feel like it should
So baby turn up the good
