He sat up in his open window
Looking quietly down at the path
A firefly flew in his room
And flew right out again

Down jumped the prince
And he went again to find his radio

Magic transistor radio
Glowing magic transistor radio
Glowing magic transistor radio

As he made his way
(Glowing magic transistor radio)
He could hear something once again
There was that transistor up on the same tree
Then from inside of it came a strange voice
