Now that all friends are gone any intruder's welcome When everybody's said their goodbyes we're on the move and we will arrive

And we don't have to stand wherever we have to stand
And we don't have to stand
whatever we are supposed to stand

Loving embrace, the pressure is on The entrance is closed and the exit is gone.
Soon we will be, soon we will go, where nothing sucks and nothing blows

wherever we have to stand
whatever we are supposed to stand
