"Loneliness Abandons The Lonely"

All those together, all those us and we are over Static on the line, listening in on my mind

Loving the way that loneliness overwhelms every thought As the rain darkening the streets turns from fall to assault at least I feel love's gone

Always wondered where you were when you smiled in your sleep I'm only dreaming these days I'm all dreams

I loved as if love could exist between creatures like us Someone will come hold me as if to say:
Oh, you're not wrong
But it's gone, it's just gone You're not wrong love is gone, it is gone
