"What I Hate"

I know what they say
But not why I'm still listening
Clever how they speculate
Even in honesty
Afraid that I'm like them
Or what they want me to be
I've heard that all power
Comes from the people but
It never returns
Then why is this pressure still building

What I hate what I hate
The cowardice within
The media posses
The monstrous cheers
From the corporate societies

What I hate what I hate
The economic elite
Every fascist heartbeat
Every bank on the market
The most sacred consumers

What I hate what I hate
Everything that thrives
On hopelessness and less
The contempt for the weaker
The cries for one leader

What I hate what I hate
The constant etceteras
That ignores everyone
Without the proper
Hallelujah or background

What I hate my own hate
Wearing me out
I've self-medicated
Self-pity turned into self-hatred

What I hate to be part

Of this everyday
I must find
An excuse for my life
But I wont refuse
What I hate mustn't hate
What I hate mustn't hate
