Would you come grasp my empty fingers
Would you come hold these tired hands that help me fall
It's apart from what I'm feeling
I can't sleep and tonight I think that I won't sleep at all

Doubts and fears have pushed my love away... away
Don't you know that heartache it never stays

Don't watch me giving out those glances while your gone
Stolen from the loneliness I know
Will find me the moment that I tell you that we're done
But I know... but I know we're wrong... I know we're wrong
And when you hurt
Oh how it hurts, oh how it hurts

There are things that I should tell you
But I left them all unsaid... and you know
I had a fear that I would hurt you Things can never stay the same
